Field Trip Behavior Contract for Chaperones

It is important to remember that field trips have an educational purpose. As part of the planning process, teachers take special care to ensure that field trip activities are directly connected to California State learning standards. Teachers rely on adult chaperones to help them carry out the objectives of the field trip. Without your support, these school-sponsored field trips would not be possible. Thank you for volunteering!

On school-sponsored field trips, the classroom teacher is the lead chaperone and primary supervisor. Parent chaperones and drivers need to take direction from the classroom teacher. If chaperones have questions, please clarify these with the classroom teacher. It is important that all chaperones are communicating the same information to all students and holding all students accountable to the same rules.

In addition to having educational advantages, field trips should be fun! We want chaperones to enjoy themselves. In order for everyone to have a good time, however, it is important that everyone feels safe. Therefore, an organized and well-run field trip is essential. With that in mind, we ask chaperones and drivers to make the following promises.
